

Appeal For Funds

W. Pepperdine, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, is appealing for funds to help the Red Cross in the Gulf Coast area. The Red Cross is the largest voluntary organization in the world, outside of the military, and it is the only one that operates 24 hours a day. Every day, through it, Mrs. Pepperdine reported, the Red Cross can contact a serviceman anywhere in the world when an emergency arises in his family. Verified facts necessary for the military to decide whether a leave can be granted are obtained, but she stressed "Only the military grants emergency leaves or a hardship discharge."

Among other services given by the Red Cross in this area, were the water safety program last year and first aid training by qualified instructors.

Lack of funds, Mrs. Pepperdine said, keeps the chapter from expanding this vital service.

Another service rendered through the Red Cross is the work of the Gray Ladies and the Volunteer Council, who give freely of their time and money to bring entertainment and supplies to those in the Veterans Administration hospitals in Gulfport, Biloxi and at Keesler AFB hospital.

Steps Taken Toward Day Care Center For Retarded Children

J. R. Allen, Director of Vocational Training at the Good Samaritan Center for retarded children in Harrison County and Jeff McDaniel, Social Worker at the VA Hospital, Gulfport, met with members of the Hancock County Association for Retarded Children last week. The local group, organized last year, has worked steadily under the leadership of Warren Carver, president, to establish a center for retarded children of Hancock County.

With the helpful cooperation of the Harrison County visitors last week, first steps were taken toward a Day Care Center for the Bay-Waveland area. Permission has been given to the center in the old hospital building on Carroll Ave; Boy Scout leaders have indicated that Scouts would help by building work tables of proper height for children.

This is indeed a community project worthy of consideration. For too long the retarded child has been the forgotten child. It is now an established fact that many of these retarded youngsters can be helped in varying degrees. Any help they get gives them a better chance to be self-supporting, law abiding citizens. Hancock County can do no less than support the efforts of the Association for Retarded Children.

Parents of retarded children may get information about the opening of the center by calling Mrs. Lloyd Lewis at HO-7-6314 or Mrs. C. A. Phelps at HO-7-4285.

BAY HIGH TO PRESENT CLASS PLAY APRIL 6

"The Boy Who Changed the World," will be presented by Bay High Seniors, Friday, April 6, in the school auditorium.

The play is based on the problems of a teenage cave boy, who unlike an ordinary boy, is not interested in the three C's of his school work, clubbing, climbing and clobbering. As a result of his preference for wandering the forest day dreaming, he will not receive his club with the members of his graduating class in the Spring.

This failure, causes George to be faced with exile as the weak who can not support themselves are sent into the wilderness. His father will not allow his son's expulsion as this would ruin his campaign for mayor.

Matters grow increasingly worse when George meets glamorous Dorothy. To impress her, he invents painting, which isn't understood, poetry, which is laughed at, and music, which is a heart-breaking disappointment. Through it all, one friend, Mollie, defends him loyally.

For the answer as to what happened to George, see the play Friday night.

Mr. Craft noted that in the American system normal decisions are made by many people and not by one or two as in the Communist system. He concluded by pointing out how in this country, everyone is free to join organizations of their choice where in Communist countries they have no choice but the Communist party.

FORESTRY NOTES

Mississippi now has enough growing timber to support considerable additional industry," says Joe Bullock, director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, adding that his organization and the Mississippi Forestry Commission are actively cooperating to promote expansion of forest industry in the state.

"When an industrial prospect asks for information concerning available timber supplies in the area being considered for a plant location, we turn to the Forestry Commission for help," states Bullock. The Commission then prepares estimates for the A & I Board to present to the prospect.

Bullock emphasized that the vigorous program of protecting the forests, aiding landowners in applying modern forest management practices and promoting the development of forest resources has begun to pay off in an abundant supply of pulpwood and saw timber. This condition is necessary before new plants can be built as an industrial plant requires a permanent supply of raw material, according to Bullock.

Emphasizing that future industrial growth in Mississippi would depend to a considerable extent on an increasing supply of raw material, Bullock states that economists have predicted that the $4 billion dollars worth of forest products manufactured in Mississippi in 1959 can be doubled by 1970 provided that we continue our growing forestry and industrial development programs. He added that he has received assurance from State Forester Jack Holman that the Forestry Commission will continue assisting the A & I Board and will increase its services to industry in obtaining information on new products which can be produced and improved processing methods. Such improvements are vital in order for Mississippi forest products to compete with forest products from other areas and with wood substitutes, indicated Bullock.

"The Light Eternal" To Be At St. Rose Auditorium April 8

THE LIGHT ETERNAL, a comedy Drama, will be presented on April 8, in St. Rose de Lima Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

"If you want to spend an evening of wholesome fun and laughter, come and watch Maggie O'Brien rule the 'roost' and her husband, who is a bit afraid of her. Although Maggie bosses him, she loves him dearly and is a good wife and mother. The romance of their daughter Margaret, with young Dennis Collins is screamingly funny. Their son too, has fallen in love, but we cannot tell you the rest without spoiling the interesting plot of this fine play. You will scream with laughter at the scenes between Mrs. Conway, the gossip next door, and Maggie O'Brien, the grand woman who hates gossip worse than poison. Be sure to see this play. You'll feel better for having witnessed it. It will be one of the most heart-warming experiences you have ever seen on the stage. As interpreted by our excellent characters, it promises to be an event of the season."

See THE LIGHT ETERNAL, April 8, 7:30 p.m., at St. Rose de Lima Auditorium.

IT MAY NOT BE AS BAD AS YOU THINK IT IS

This country still is, in good shape. I know more nice people than I ever have known before in my life. I must know ten thousand people who'd never think of dynamiting a house. I know office holders you couldn't buy or bribe for a million dollars. I have friends I'd let out my money, day or night. And if the Lord came to my house this evening and said, "Look here, old boy, this U.S.A. is in a powerful mood, and I'm going to let you pick out some other country if you want to," I would say, "Thank you, Lord, but I'm stuck around."

DIETING? DON'T SKIP BREAKFAST

According to authorities on nutrition, you may be fooling yourself if you are skipping or skimping breakfast to cut down your calorie consumption.

It's the way they live. Breakfast skippers or skimpers naturally get hungry and usually eat more at lunch and dinner. And this results in an increase in calorie intake in their intake of calories.

Dr. Frederick J. Stare, head of the nutrition department of Harvard University, believes that if you eat a good breakfast you are likely to eat less later in the day. He says that the most important meal of the day is breakfast, or you are trying to reduce or to maintain in your weight.

Nutrition authorities also believe that eating a good breakfast will help you to lose weight more easily and to maintain it more easily.

and work output. In "An Introduction to Food and Nutrition," Dr. Henry C. Sherman and Caroline Sherman Latham, who are both nutritionists, say that breakfast is the most important meal of the day in setting the pace for the day's activities.

Many persons who have been accustomed to eating a very light breakfast and who think this serves them well are surprised to find how much heavier they feel and how much more energetic they are when they eat a good breakfast.

Persons who skip breakfast are likely to eat more at lunch and dinner, and this results in an increase in calorie intake.

Kantcha Ketchum

Can't help singing the old song but, green trout and perch are still being caught most everywhere both by trolling and with surface baits as well as with earth worms, crayfish, etc.

Seems like the young fishermen are putting it on us old timers when it comes to catching larger fish. Nickie Rauxet caught a 3 1/2 pound green trout last Thursday and followed it up with a 6 pound trout. The fish was a small mouth bass, rather unusual for this area. It was caught with a perch pole and line with an earth worm. Nickie is having the fish mounted and will have a wonderful trophy for some time.

John G. Miller, Jr. and Albert Soulagnot both of New Orleans are regular players at Pass Christian Golf Course. They make the trip over most every Sunday and are high in their praises of the local course.

The regular monthly meeting of Scout executives will be held this Thursday night at the BSA building. All scouts should attend.

Mother of Clermont Harbor Resident Died in New Orleans

Mrs. Fannie Louise Gentry, 79, mother of Richard S. Gentry, died at 6:15 p.m. Saturday, March 24, in New Orleans.

She was the wife of the late J. Bryan Gentry, sister of Mrs. Annie Tatcher, Mrs. Lilla Gentry, Mrs. Marietta Robinson, Mrs. Ernest Stahl, Emily Gentry and the late Stanley Gentry. She is also survived by two grandchildren.

Mrs. Gentry was a native of Mississippi. She had resided in New Orleans for 58 years.

Funeral services were conducted at the funeral home of E. J. McMahon-Coleman Co., Monday afternoon. Interment was in Calmette National Cemetery.

Speaking of golf the free lessons to start soon at Pass Christian Golf Course for the young folk should prove of much interest. Talk to Pro Tarleton about them.

Another 4 pounds, 2 ounces green trout was caught by Rod Bennett last week. He was fishing in the Ansley area. Looks like a banner year for local anglers.

Good news has been received regarding floundering. Seems like they are starting to give. Clyde Laddner reported catching a few the past few nights and a few persistent fellows have been catching a few soft crabs. They are not too plentiful as yet however.

Understand that Ogden Kergoslen is learning to throw a cast.

MISSISSIPPI KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

R. P. Shapley of Greenville, Mississippi, State Deputy, Knights of Columbus, announced today that the State Convention of the Knights of Columbus will be held in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, April 28, 29 and 30. Convention Headquarters will be the Forrest Hotel, with the Bishop Foley Community Center, at Hattiesburg, as host.

Shapley also announced that St. Knight John W. McDevitt, Deputy Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, New Haven, Connecticut, will be the principal speaker at the Convention Banquet.

Did you know that small mouth bass (Small mouth green trout) frequently caught in the same waters as the large mouth bass, but five and six pounds are not uncommon. They rank high as a game fish and are considered good food.

Owning a mounted fish is a wonderful trophy but is rather an expensive one. It costs $1.10 per inch for mounting a fish and requires about two months to have the job done. There is a taxidermist in Biloxi (John O. Cook, Jr.) a former Bay St. Louis resident.

The regular monthly meeting of Scout executives will be held this Thursday night at the BSA building. All scouts should attend.

ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR STATE

R. P. Shapley of Greenville, Mississippi, State Deputy, Knights of Columbus, announced today that the State Convention of the Knights of Columbus will be held in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, April 28, 29 and 30. Convention Headquarters will be the Forrest Hotel, with the Bishop Foley Community Center, at Hattiesburg, as host.

Shapley also announced that St. Knight John W. McDevitt, Deputy Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, New Haven, Connecticut, will be the principal speaker at the Convention Banquet.

Did you know that small mouth bass (Small mouth green trout) frequently caught in the same waters as the large mouth bass, but five and six pounds are not uncommon. They rank high as a game fish and are considered good food.

Owning a mounted fish is a wonderful trophy but is rather an expensive one. It costs $1.10 per inch for mounting a fish and requires about two months to have the job done. There is a taxidermist in Biloxi (John O. Cook, Jr.) a former Bay St. Louis resident.

The regular monthly meeting of Scout executives will be held this Thursday night at the BSA building. All scouts should attend.

Mother of Clermont Harbor Resident Died in New Orleans

Mrs. Fannie Louise Gentry, 79, mother of Richard S. Gentry, died at 6:15 p.m. Saturday, March 24, in New Orleans.

She was the wife of the late J. Bryan Gentry, sister of Mrs. Annie Tatcher, Mrs. Lilla Gentry, Mrs. Marietta Robinson, Mrs. Ernest Stahl, Emily Gentry and the late Stanley Gentry. She is also survived by two grandchildren.

Mrs. Gentry was a native of Mississippi. She had resided in New Orleans for 58 years.

Funeral services were conducted at the funeral home of E. J. McMahon-Coleman Co., Monday afternoon. Interment was in Calmette National Cemetery.

Speaking of golf the free lessons to start soon at Pass Christian Golf Course for the young folk should prove of much interest. Talk to Pro Tarleton about them.

Another 4 pounds, 2 ounces green trout was caught by Rod Bennett last week. He was fishing in the Ansley area. Looks like a banner year for local anglers.

Good news has been received regarding floundering. Seems like they are starting to give. Clyde Laddner reported catching a few the past few nights and a few persistent fellows have been catching a few soft crabs. They are not too plentiful as yet however.

Understand that Ogden Kergoslen is learning to throw a cast.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK ANNUAL CELEBRATION

The fifth annual celebration of National Library Week, April 2-8, has special significance to the state of Mississippi.

The theme of National Library Week is "Read and Watch Your World Grow." Mississippians are doing more than reading and watching; they are securing books for everyone who wants to read at an encouraging rate.

Since 1907 bookmobile service has been started for the first time in 21 incorporated towns. Another 59 towns have established libraries for the first time; 47 towns have completely renovated their existing libraries or built new quarters. This means that the past five years a new or improved library service has been initiated in Mississippi every 15 days—or an average of two per month.

No other state in the union has made such outstanding strides in library development in the past five years as has Mississippi. Significantly, Mississippi has made great strides in education, in community development and in industrial growth during that same period.

In a recent communication to the citizens of Jackson, Mayor Allen Thompson said, "Public library progress is considered throughout the world to be a reliable barometer of community progress."

Mayor John D. Holland, Vicksburg, Chairman of the National Library Week activities in Mississippi, speaking to a meeting of the State Citizens' Committee recently said, "We hope National Library Week will call attention to the vital role the public plays in the community as a source of information, inspiration and entertainment. Special activities will be held in libraries throughout the state. Local citizens' groups are being formed to spearhead community promotion. The aims of National Library Week are: To raise the educational level of Mississippians; to attract industry to Mississippi communities; to raise the economy of Mississippi through increased information and skills; to use libraries as a vital force to keep young people in the state; to acquaint the public with the needs of libraries within the state; to secure support sufficient to meet these needs."

During National Library Week all Mississippians will be made aware of the need to extend library development into every county and every corner of Mississippi and to improve the standard existing service. 58 incorporated towns in seven of the 82 counties still lack public library service of any kind.

National Library Week is not an end in itself, the 1962 observance will see the launching of another year of real progress in library development. To quote Mrs. Lura G. Currier, director of the Mississippi Library Commission, "Every week is library week in Mississippi."

Mrs. Roberta Leteff of Baton Rouge is visiting this week with Mrs. Charles Banister and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Fredericks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pritzloff of Milwaukee, Wis., left Sunday, after a week's visit with Mrs. H. M. Keefe.

Mrs. C. R. Beyer had as guests for the Thursday spring pilgrimage her sister, Mrs. Clare Goodwin and Mrs. Albert Burke of New Orleans.

Darlene Marie Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus (P. J.) Collier, was baptized Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with the Rev. Michael Kelly officiating.

Sponsors were Mrs. Eunice Boudin of this city and a paternal cousin, Errol Collier, of Mobile, Ala.

Mrs. Edward Heitzmann Sr. and daughter Mrs. Clarence Allen of Algiers, spent the weekend at their home on Sycamore Street and visited with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Heitzmann Jr. and family.

COMING EVENTS OF INTEREST AT ST. JOSEPH ACADEMY

St. Joseph Academy Girls Club will present its annual spring concert, Friday, March 29, in the school gymnasium.

The Rev. John Scanlon, Superintendent of Schools for the Nat. Archdiocese, will be guest speaker at the St. Joseph Academy Parents' Club meeting at 8 p.m. April 10 in Memorial Hall.

Parents of students from Our Lady of the Gulf and St. Stanislaus are invited.

Academy students have offered their services as baby sitters.

Basketball intramurals for boys of Our Lady of the Gulf School will take place in St. Joseph Academy gymnasium from 7 to 9 p.m. April 12, with the fourth, fifth and sixth grades participating.

IA's Junior high intramurals will begin at 8 p.m. April 14, together with Our Lady of the Gulf's fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls.

NEW MONEY FOR SCHOOL DISTRICTS UNDER PROPOSAL

JACKSON, Miss.—School districts would get a new tax revenue source under a bill approved 89-37 by the Mississippi House Tuesday.

The bill would permit counties to add another 3 mills to their school taxes if the people approve in elections.

Supporters said 27 of the state's 150 school districts have reached the maximum millage permitted by law and were in financial trouble with no additional revenue source in sight. The present maximum is 25 mills.

Rep. George Rogers of Warren County argued the millage increase was unnecessary and extra money could be secured if counties would reassess property at more realistic values.

"This bill perpetuates a deplorable situation," Rogers said. "Let's have a re-assessment."

However, other lawmakers urged a re-assessment bill drafted by Rogers for the recess education study committee might fail and a millage raise would then be necessary.

Rep. Charles Jacobs of Bolivar County, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee who handled the bill, said if the other measure passed "I'll help you kill this one."

The House also approved a bill to permit increased employer contributions to finance the fund from which unemployment payments are made.

Jacobs said under the present law, if the fund fell below 4 per cent of the total taxable payroll, the employer contributions would soar.

"If it ever jumps up," he said "it will hurt the state in its industrial program."

The bill would permit lesser increases to keep the fund above the 4 per cent level. It has dropped from 43 million after World War I to $31 million and could fall under the 4 per cent level within the next year at the present rate of decline.

Both measures were held on motions to reconsider.

Flat Top HD Club Meeting

Flat Top Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. F. Ferguson.

Mrs. C. Phelps and Mrs. Andy Becker discussed the April cancer drive with the group, and Mrs. K. T. Breland, guest was introduced.

Mrs. Lillian Slay presented the study topic, "Opportunities in Leadership with Youth." "No task is so easy, but what it becomes more difficult when done with reluctance," was given as the thought for the month.

Mrs. M. G. Eccles, dress review chairman, gave a demonstration with Mesdames Slay and daughter, Sudie, Hudson, Catherine White, Rene Turner and Faye Gaspar modeling some of the frocks to be entered in the review April 11.

There were 30 members in attendance.

Hurst Final Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Victoria Hurst, 71, were held Monday afternoon with religious rites from St. Ann Catholic Church in Liana, with Rev. Gregory Johnson officiating. Interment was in Standard Sand Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Hurst, a residence of the Liana community, died at 7:30 p.m. March 24 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Survivors are a son, Francis Laddie, Liana; a sister, Mrs. Nora Cuevas, Liana; four brothers, Julius Laddie, Natchez; Charles Laddie, Edgewater Park; William Laddie and Wiley Laddie, Gulfport; and six grandchildren.

DIZZY DEAN HELPS ROSS AND PACHUTA'S FIRST INDUSTRIAL

Gov. Ross Barnett inaugurated another Mississippi industry as Dizzy Dean Enterprises was opened formally with almost 3,000 persons gathered on the grounds despite very cold weather.

With Dizzy himself on hand, Gov. Hugh White was another featured speaker, and congratulated Gov. Barnett on "learning how to get industry in our state. He has listened well to those of us who have told him how," he chuckled.

Gov. Barnett praised the team of young men leading Mississippi Industries, working with Warren Hood as president. Dizzy Dean Enterprises is a subsidiary of M.I.I. Gov. White is chairman of its board. Dean told the crowd he has chosen Clarke County, Mississippi as the site of the modern charcoal plant, after having opportunities to go into business in many other states.

"Ole Diz," a native Arkansan, has adopted Mississippi as his "second home." His wife, Pat, is from Bond, Mississippi, where the Deans now have a home and where he spends much of his time during the off-season from his television show, the baseball game of the week.

He has long been recognized as one of Mississippi's top boosters, and was honored by the State Chamber of Commerce and Governor Ross Barnett who proclaimed a "Dizzy Dean Day," for his many favorable comments about Mississippi during his chosen Clarke County, Mississippi-wide TV show.

ident Mississippi Industries, Joe Bullock, executive director, Miss. A&I Board, Gov. White, Gov. Barnett, Diz and W. A. Roper, manager of the new plant of Dizzy Dean Enterprises.

Dizzy Dean Enterprises, Inc., the building and kilns, was a subsidiary of Mississippi Industries, started construction on the 10-acre plant site in October, 1961.

The plant will use approximately 200,000 tons of hardwood lumber per year, which will convert into 10,000 tons of Ole Diz charcoal briquets. This will represent an annual purchase of $200,000.00 of hardwood timber. The new plant is expected to provide employment for more than 100 people when in full production.

General Manager of Dizzy Dean Enterprises is W. A. Roper.

A BAWI bond issue approved by the citizens of Clarke County in the amount of $150,000 for the construction of the building and kilns, was supplemented by $200,000 investment by Dizzy Dean Enterprises.

In addition to charcoal briquets, the company will market other items in the outdoor cooking line.

Other companies operated by Mississippi Industries include: Amid Laboratories, Jackson; Atlas Roofing Manufacturing Company, Meridian; Atlas Tank Manufacturing Company, Vicksburg; Atlas Tile and Brick Company, Shuqualak; Dryden Manufacturing Company, Amory; Fireproof Products Company, Terry; Max Muller & Company, Jackson; Morton Manufacturing Company, Morton; and Natchez Reproductions, Inc., Natchez.

REORGANIZATION OF STATE INCOME TAX AIM OF BILL

JACKSON, Miss.—Sponsors of a newly-introduced House bill to reorganize the state income tax procedure say it would provide Mississippi with $10 million extra each year.

The measure, designed to simplify tax returns, was introduced Tuesday by Rep. Richard Arrington of Copiah County and six other representatives.

The measure would make the state income tax 10 per cent of federal income taxes less $200.

Arrington said in a statement procedures have been used successfully in Alaska and West Virginia.

"Many taxpayers, including large industrial, tax consultants and attorneys," he said, "have advised the authorities of this bill that bookkeeping savings would be in excess of the additional tax."

Arrington said the bill was not designed to block any tax proposals before the legislature but was a sincere effort to do something constructive for the state.

"I've worked on this two years," he said. "It would enable us to collect from people not now paying state income taxes because Mississippi, with this bill, will be able to use the machinery of the federal Internal Revenue Service to enable it to collect taxes due from the state, with great savings and more efficient results therefrom."

Ing state income taxes because He said the average taxpayer Mississippi, with this bill, will be would pay about the same amount as at present, but the use of the federal tax structure as a basis to enable it to collect taxes due from the state, with great savings and families and similar items factors more efficient results therefrom." in determining the total tax.

University of Southern Mississippi Day Will Feature Miss Bay St. Louis

More than one hundred alumni meetings have been scheduled in observance of the first University of Southern Mississippi Day on March 30, which will be celebrated locally by a gathering of the members and friends of Southern at the Jaycee Hall at 7:30 p.m. Although this is the first University Day celebration, former students have observed this date as the founding of the institution in 1910 for the past seven years. The Alumni Association, sponsor of the project, voted at the 1964 Homecoming to establish the custom and tradition of former students meeting on this date around the world with the hope that it would create a stronger tie between the alumnus and his University. Total number of meetings reported during this time indicate that the project has met with success.

As of this date, meetings have been scheduled in 82 of the Mississippi Counties, 21 other states plus the District of Columbia, three areas outside the continental United States, and duplicate out of state meetings bringing the total to 105. Additional meetings are expected to be added to this growing list prior to March 30. Included in this group are meetings in the Canal Zone, Germany, Turkey, and the newest states of Alaska and Hawaii.

Students now attending the University of Southern Mississippi are invited to participate in this celebration along with spouses of former students and friends of the institution. The program will feature Miss Sue Breath, Miss Bay St. Louis, a freshman at Southern this year. Officers for the coming year will also be elected, and refreshments will be served, according to Mrs. Michael Haas, Hancock County University of Southern Mississippi Day Chairman.

County Health Department. In many ways I have enjoyed working with the Health Department. The other personnel are very nice to work with the Board has been very generous and grant all my every request. I certainly appreciate the cooperation you have shown me. My reason for returning to private practice is because I felt I was not properly using my education. I feel I should return to private practice so I can have more medical responsibility and less administrative duties. Let me again say that I appreciate the generosity you have shown me and the Health Department, and I pledge my continued support to the Health Department in every respect.

State Action In Mixed Reaction To Court Ruling

JACKSON, Miss.—The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling on reapportionment suits has mixed reactions from Mississippi lawmakers.

"It's an indictment of legislatures for not carrying out their responsibilities," said Rep. George Warren of Warren County.

The Supreme Court Monday said city voters could seek relief in instances of overrepresentation of rural areas.

"I'm very happy," said Rep. Stone Barefield of Forest. "I think we'll see some action around here before long."

Rep. Joe Moss said he did not think the decision would prompt the legislature to act.

"I hate to see the government get into this," said Rep. Walter Hester of Hinds County, "but I'm not defending the inequities in apportionment."

Meanwhile, attorney Upton Sisson, representing a group of six Gulfport businessmen, said he would seek an immediate hearing on a suit to force reapportionment. He said the high court's ruling clears the way for appeals to federal courts.

Sisson said he would ask a quick hearing on the case before Chancellor William Horton in Hinds County Chancery court.

Gov. Ross Barnett declined comment on the Supreme Court action until he read the entire opinion.

Reapportionment proponents have already introduced these measures in the Mississippi House: Rep. Russell Davis of Hinds County and 20 other reapportionment leaders offered a bill to give each county one senator and one representative. The extra representatives would go to most heavily settled counties. The measure provides for 82 senators and 146 representatives.

Another bill calls for shuffling House seats to bring representative in line with population. It would take away the nine floater representatives—those shared by more than one county—and give them to counties with heavy populations.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT the Clerk of this Board is hereby directed and commanded to certify two copies of this order to the State Tax Commission, as required by Section 981B, Code of 1942, and upon the approval of the said order by the said Commission to make the proper change on the assessment roll, and to certify a copy to the Sheriff and Tax Collector of this County, who shall proceed to collect taxes on said property as thus assessed as provided by law; and that the said Sheriff be duly charged with additional assessment.

ORDERED AND ADJUDGED this 8 day of January, 1962.
